

WHERE BEAUTIES COME IN PAIRS: MISS FAYE LAMPHER of Santa Cruz, Who Will Go to the National Contest at Atlantic City as "Miss California," and Miss Lillian Knight (Left), Who Will Accompany Her as "Miss Los Angeles."
(Times Wide World Photos.)

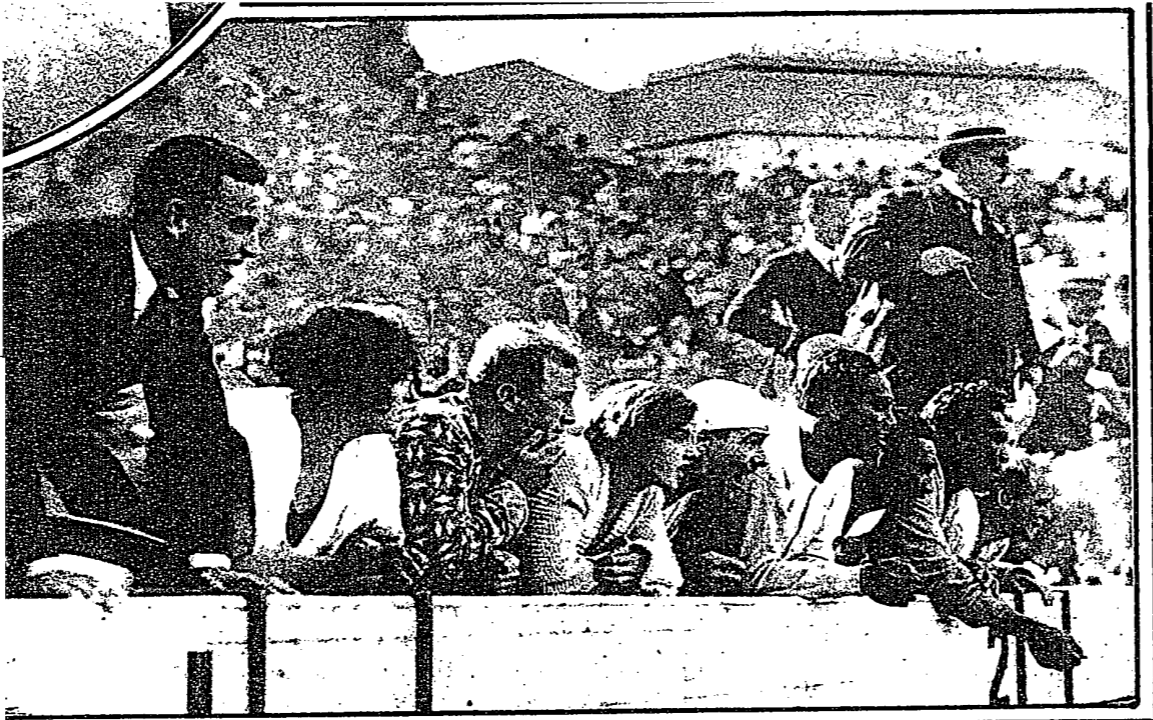

Comes Up for Air and the Cheers of the Crowd After Winning the 400-Meter Finals at Tourelles in the Olympics.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

THE HUMAN EEL BEATS THEM ALL: JOHNNY WEISSMULLER

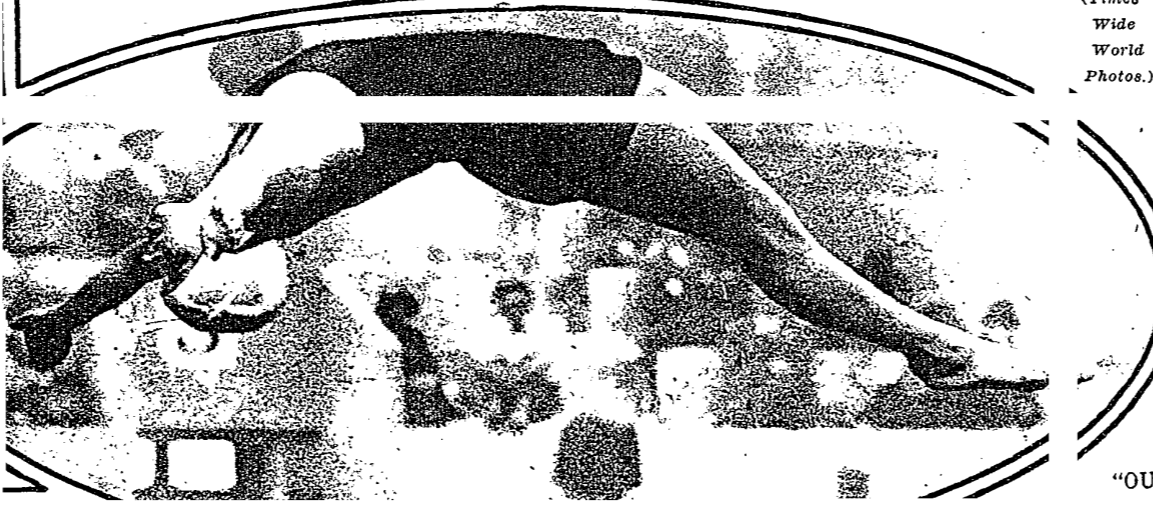

"OUR MISS "RIGGIN": EILEEN RIGGIN of the American Team Taking a Graceful Dive Into the Pool at Tourelles.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

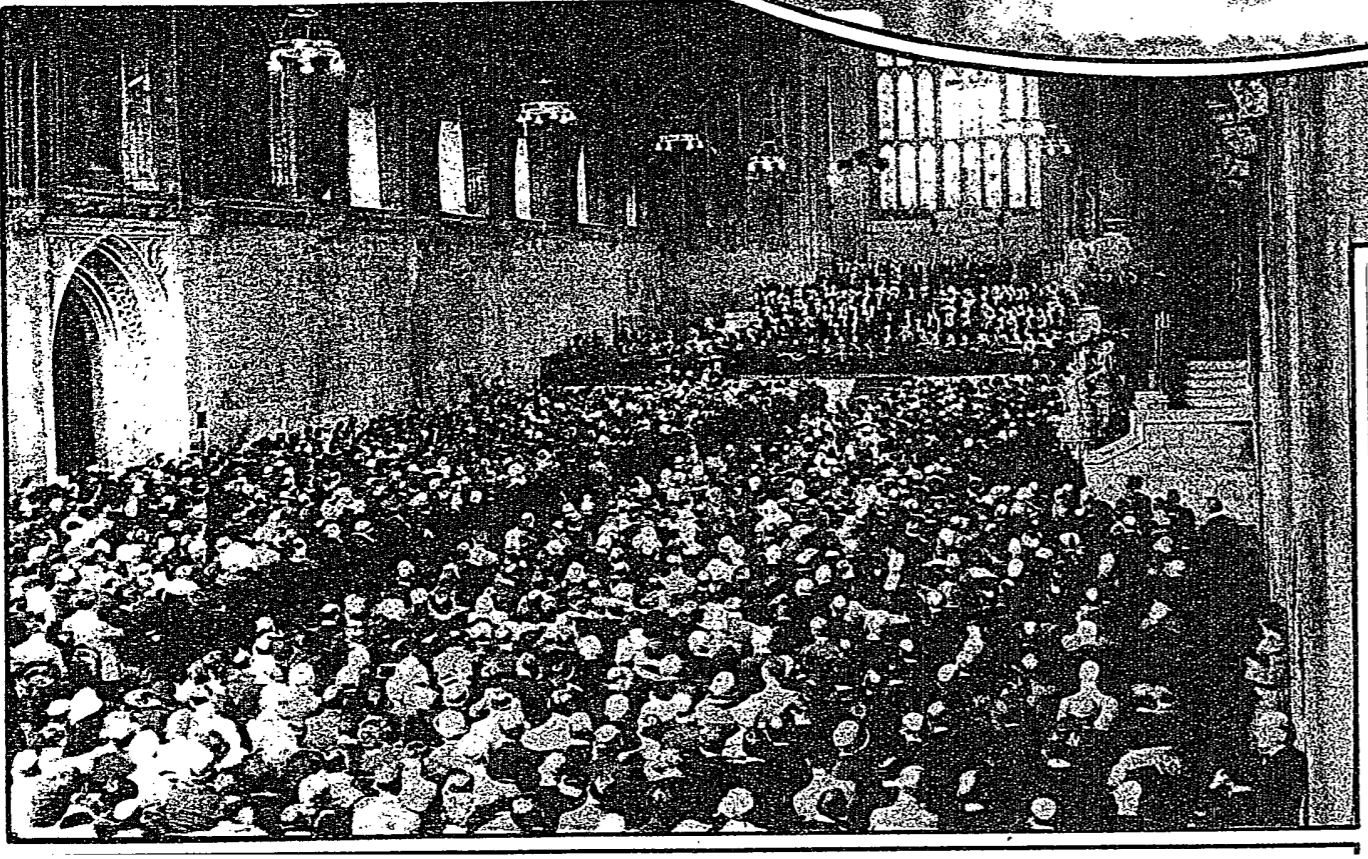

CHEERING JOHNNY WEISSMULLER TO VICTORY: MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN OLYMPIC SWIMMING TEAM Watching the Finish of the 100 Meters at the Pool at Tourelles.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

ONE OF THE AMERICAN "IM-MORTALS" OF THE OLYMPIC GAMES: ROBERT D. SKELTON, Winner of the 200-Meter Breast-Stroke Event in 2 Minutes 56 2-3 Seconds.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

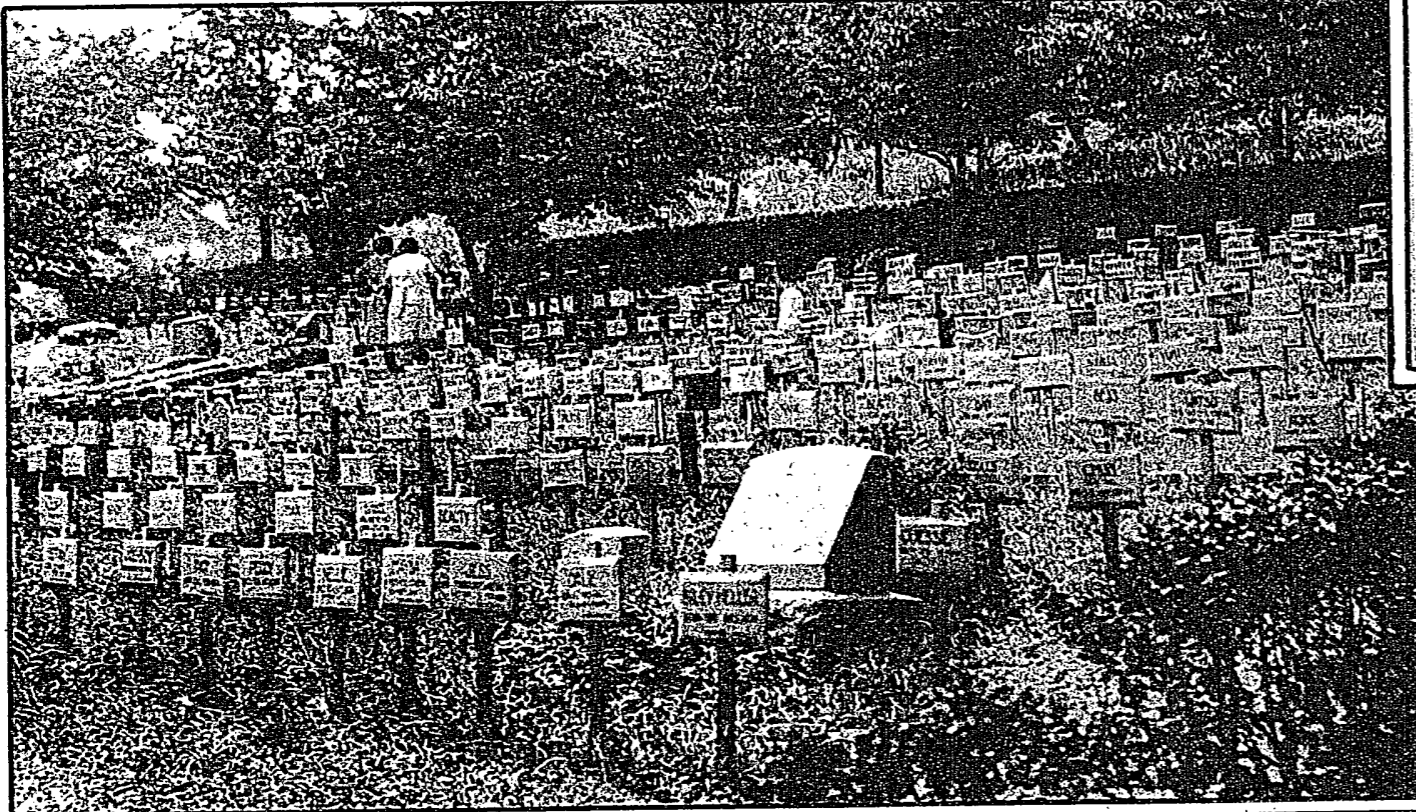

A CHAMPION SHOWS HIS FORM: PINKSTON of America, Titleholder in the 1920 Olympic Games, Comes in Third in the Fancy Diving Contest at Paris.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

A UNION OF THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLES: DELEGATES AND MEMBERS of the American and Canadian Bar Associations, Gathered in Westminster Hall, London, With the Justices of the English Courts as Their Hosts.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

A CANDIDATE FOR LATER NATIONAL HONORS: MISS AGNES LEONARD, Chosen "Miss Coney Island" at the Annual Bathing-Beauty Contest at Steeplechase Park.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

WAITING FOR THE LAST CALL OF THEIR MASTER: DOG CEMETERY at Radnor, Pa., Where Over a Thousand Pets Lie Buried, Each With Its Own Headstone.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

"ARTISANS OF VICTORY" FOR THE UNITED STATES: THE AMERICAN WOMEN'S SWIMMING TEAM, Which Helped to Pile Up a Score of 217 Points Against the Swedish Team's 58 in the Olympic Events in Paris. Left to Right, They Are: The Misses Ederle, Donnelly, Lackie and Wehselan.
(Times Wide World Photos.)

